

Slovakia Racing: Testing in Spain

Just like last year we take care of riders not only during the racing season, but also during the winter, by organizing testing on the Spanish circuits of Almeria and Cartagena. By this time some of them have already done the testing, while others are only packing for Spain. Of course, those who are just thinking about when and where to warm up after the winter break, now have the opportunity to join us for a great time in the south of Europe.

The testing that we organize in cooperation with the Agency Bikepromotion has a very good reputation among the riders. We enjoy sunny weather with ideal riding temperatures that not only wake the rider up after a long break, but also test his capabilities and add new experiences. Both of these circuits are therefore a suitable place to improve, and not only for competitive riders, but also for hobby riders as well.

If you want to join us for these test rides, you can find all information at this link:
